

September 06, 2006 04:03 PM ET

San Jose's Realization opens South Africa branch

Realization Technologies Inc. said Wednesday it opened a new full branch office in South Africa.

San Jose-based Realization said the new location in Johannesburg follows on the company's work with African Explosives Ltd. and South Africa's energy conversion, minerals processing and public infrastructure industries.

Recent investing news

Dow Sets New High, but Stocks End Mixed

Lifestream Technologies, Inc. Takes Actions to Explore Strategic Alternatives

NFL Owners Approve International Games

At Forbes: Twelve Undervalued Photographers

At Forbes: Unlocking The Ballot Box

"With South Africa's $53 billion public infrastructure rollout, its leadership in coal-to-petroleum conversion technology and many other growing industries that desperately need help with efficient project execution, we felt that Realization could make a major contribution," said Brian Norton, director of Realization South Africa.

Realization offers a management system for efficient and reliable execution of projects. The privately-held company was founded in 1999.

Copyright 2006 bizjournals.com